President's Report

By Nigel Dutton

I sat on an appeal committee other day, the appeal was quite complex and took quite some time both before and during the hearing. The director also spent a large amount of time preparing his submission to the committee – as did the players involved. I mention this because ALL of the time and ALL of the angst and ALL of the effort would have been unnecessary had the players involved called the director at the time of the initial infraction. Instead they made their own decision to carry on and when a “discussion” at the end of the hand began – then the director was called. The appeal was upheld and an adjusted score was awarded which compensated for damage caused by misinformation. However, the point of mentioning all of this was to report that both pairs were given a significant IMP penalty for failing to call the director at the time he should have been called.

A similar circumstance came to my attention the other day – at a local club session a player claimed the remaining tricks in a contract, clearly stating a line of play. The opponent disagreed. The claimant offered to play the hand. WRONG. The situation then developed into a heated “he played this”, “she played that”, “no I didn’t” emotional and unpleasant experience. The director arrived sorted the matter all’s well. Not really. I would have encouraged the director to settle the final result of the contract and then fine both pairs “a top” or whatever, for failing to call the director when the claim was disputed. Let it be clear - if you claim and the opponents disagree you cannot now play the hand. The director must be called immediately. OK so you may not know all of these rules – so here is an easy one for you. For ANY INFRACTION or ANY DISAGREEMENT at the table the director must be called IMMEDIATELY.

You may recall that some 3 years ago BAWA held a Special General Meeting to endorse the concept that BAWA should find a permanent home as a junior partner with the Melville Bridge Club. A Memorandum of Agreement between Melville and BAWA was duly signed. Melville had been offered a substantial redevelopment / re-location at Tompkins Park in Ardross. In the end, mainly due to cost, the council shelved the Tompkins Park proposal but did offer the club an excellent alternative. I am pleased to report that after much blood, sweat and tears, mostly for the Melville committee, the end does appear to be in sight; at a recent most cordial and fruitful meeting with the CMBC committee a new Memorandum was concluded. The council suggests the first quarter of 2018 as the timetable for the move. Watch this space.

At the recent ANC a player in the Victorian Open Team also played in the Restricted Butler – an event for players with less than 300 master points. This caused some angst and the ABF was asked to examine the definition of “a restricted player” with the aim of having it more accurately reflect the spirit of the restricted category. 300 master points is very easy to check and enforce and requires no “decisions” to be made. Because of this the ABF have decided that the current definition of restricted player will be maintained. BAWA has also examined the issue and is considering the idea that a restricted player should have less than 300 master points of which no more than 100 can be Gold points. As you may know Gold master points are won at national events. Your views, as always, would be welcome. John Beddow is the TC Secretary and his email details are on our web site.

The Mixed Pairs Red Point was held on 17 November. It was a most enjoyable afternoon with a good turnout. Thanks to all who helped with the catering during the break, especially Marilyn Summerville, Jenny Liggins and Anne Hooper. Thanks also to Lee Leach for directing and everyone else who helped out on the day.

The winners were Harriet and Bruce Penhey.

2nd Marilyn Summerville and Bill Summerville.

The last (members only) Red Point will be held on Monday 12 December.

Our monthly raffle winners were Lyn Fakira and Trevor Peters also Clive and Jan Webber. This is always very popular with members. The Christmas Lunch which will be held at the Hyatt on 7 December. This year we hired two buses to deliver us to the door and take us home later.

We have had a lot of visitors lately which is great. However, as space is limited at the Hall we have to accommodate members first. We haven't had to turn anyone away so far and we do love to see visitors!

The hall is in the middle of Seacrest Park (sports ovals), Seacrest Drive, Sorrento. We play Monday and Thursday at 12.15 for a 12.30pm start. You will find further details on our website ndbc.bridgeaustralia.org

West Australian Bridge Club

From Margaret King

It was with great sadness for our club members to learn of the death of our Past President and Patron JOHN ASHWORTH. John's friends describe him as first and foremost a gentleman and a delight to play with or against.

John played for and captained the Australian team. He was one of the few WABC members who played bridge when our club was situated in West Perth, Dalkeith and at our present club in Swanbourne. He was a member of the first WA team to represent the State in Adelaide in 1958. With his long time partner Toby Manford he played club bridge, congresses and at State level. In 2011 he and Toby came third in the State Mixed Pairs. John had won the same event with Toby's mother Dorothy Krantz in 1965. He was a Silver Grand Master with 4,856 points. He leaves his wife Lorraine, a daughter and a son and a huge void at WABC.

The Melbourne Cup Luncheon and Red Point Event was a great success. The sweep stake was efficiently managed by Michael and Helen George who happily run this every year.

The Hat Parade was won by Bernard Yates for the best dressed man and Fleta Lidbury for originality. We congratulate the winners.

Our 2017 winner of the Mabs McCulloch Trophy, which is given each year to the person with the greatest amount of green points accumulated at our club events was Jocelyn Parry. Jocelyn has now won this trophy 5 times. Well done Joc.

Undercroft Bridge Club

From Graham Milward

Everything continues to go well at our temporary accommodation and players survived the first hot day without too much discomfort. The hall proved to be an excellent venue for our Melbourne Cup function. Members sat under the large verandah enjoying champers and a wonderful feast. If there had been a couple of ponies cantering around the football oval, we could have imagined ourselves at Flemington!! Our many thanks to Vice President Alan Tolley who did a great job organising the very successful day.

Work on our Clubrooms continues to progress well. The floor slab has been poured and, with bricks on site, big changes will be seen soon. The extension will enable the housing of up to 32 tables and provide great flexibility for future operations.

Our recently held Gwen Johnson Teams of 4 Competition saw the following results.

1st	President Graham Milward, Brian Fensome, James Steer (sub), Beata Bieganski, Tad Bieganski (and Carol Fensome)

2nd	Satish Bedekar, Robin Rose, Nerilyn Mack and Tony Eardley

3rd	Jenny Bandy, Chris Jenkins, Joanna Tennyson and Tony Martin

Congratulations to all those players.

Currently our “open to all” Swiss Pairs competition is underway and has attracted a good number of highly skilled visitors to test the locals.

The year has been very successful at Undercroft and our second group of learners has recently graduated from Leslie Routledge’s excellent classes. Congratulations to Bev King, Faye Darch, Beryl Wansbrough, June Price, Yuki Gale, Kerry Goldfinch, Anne and Larry O’Reilly, Brian Welton, Andrew Lindsay, Lynn Smith, Bruce Mackay and Sharon Dyball for successfully completing the course. I hope you all have a long and enjoyable future with our Club.

Many thanks to everyone who has so willingly given up time to help with the functioning of the Club during 2016.

Best wishes to all bridge players and their families for a very pleasant festive season and a safe, fulfilling 2017.

I look forward with high hopes for a great next year at Undercroft.

Merle Mann and Val Dekenah.

Eleanor Davidson and V.P Eddie.

As President, I would like to say how inspiring it is for me to be playing with Eleanor Davidson. I first played with her 20 years ago when she was a sprightly 74 year old. She still plays great bridge and it is a pleasure and honour to see her in our club.

So we must look forward to our next Red Point Event on Thursday December 8th and our mammoth Xmas Party on Tuesday evening 13th December. Last year we had 140 members attending the Xmas party and this year we expect close to 180. With Full buffet, drinks, professional entertainment, Quiz with Prizes and the Mighty Booths, photo booth it is a full on evening with not a bridge card in sight.

Our 24 beginners are more than half way through the course and we look forward to welcoming them as full members in time for the Xmas Party.

Our club will close for the Xmas break after the Dec. 20th session and reopen in 2017 on January 2nd. We look forward to another successful year in 2017 and we wish all bridge players an enjoyable festive season and good bridging. .

Busselton Bridge Club

From Jane Moulden

Yet another highly successful CONGRESS was held by Busselton Bridge Club in October at Naturaliste Community Centre in Dunsborough. It's a great venue with plenty of light, space and heating and cooling as needed. Added to which we had two rare days of beautiful spring weather. This meant we were able to spill out onto the lawns and enjoy the sunshine. I think many of us had forgotten what it felt like.

Our two directors, Peter Holloway and Neville Walker, were kept busy throughout the weekend. The catering was exceptional. Sweet things were contributed by club members and Dunsborough Tennis Club supplied and served our yummy lunches.

Personally it was a disappointing performance on the bridge front from me and I apologise to my partner Robyn. But that disappointment faded to nothing seeing the winners grinning and all enjoying themselves.

See you all at the Zonta Charity Day next year or at our Congress in two years' time.

Nothing to think about

From Matt McManus

You are defending 4S. Declarer wins the opening lead and draws trumps. He then plays on diamonds by leading the jack from his hand toward dummy's:

K732

I will now give you a number of different diamond holdings. Your job is to:

(A) Decide which card to play; and

(B) Rate how difficult your decision was (1 = easy, 2 = moderately hard, 3 = very hard).

- 1) A654
- 2) Q54
- 3) 654
- 4) 4

The answers:

1) There is no right answer – either the ace or the four might be right. So if you thought that this was a tough decision you were right to rate it 3 – very hard. If declarer has the singleton J, then the ace is probably right. With just one diamond, declarer is odds on to rise with the king if you play small, thereby losing no diamond tricks. But say declarer's diamonds are J10. Then he has to guess whether to play you or partner for the queen in order to lose only one trick in the suit.

2) Again, no right answer, but this time, the queen is probably the right play. I would rate this one 2 – moderately hard. You will solve declarer's guess if he has J10, but if you don't play the queen and he has D J6, he will have pulled a "swifty" and made a diamond trick when he has no right to.

3) The right answer is either the 6 (if you are playing reverse count) or the 4 if you play natural count or you don't play count signals. This one rates an easy 1 on the difficulty scale.

4) No prizes for the right answer here – you only have one card to play. Hopefully everyone gave this a 1.

In particular, I want to talk about problems 3 and 4. In both these circumstances, you have an easy decision as to what to play. The Laws require you to play in normal tempo. You are not allowed to try to bamboozle the opposition by means of the speed with which you play a card. If you have no legitimate bridge reason for thinking about what card you are going to play and the opponent may be deceived by it, the director can award an adjusted score. That means if you get a good score because of the deception, the director will take it away.

The great majority of players are not guilty of any deliberate trickery here. However, under the laws of bridge even if you accidentally lead the opponent astray by an unwarranted slow play, the director will award an adjusted score. Let's assume that in # 4 above (holding the singleton four), the time comes to play it. If you do play it slowly, consider what it looks like from declarer's point of view. You "obviously" have choice of cards to play and have eventually decided on the D4. Now it may be the case that you may have got yourself momentarily distracted and so delayed playing the four. You may have been thinking about what to play next, or wondering about why your partner didn't take his ace at Trick 1, or you may be thinking about how hungry you are and wouldn't be good if the director called the lunch break now! In none of these cases are you trying to deliberately deceive declarer. However because of your behaviour, declarer is led to think that you had a difficult decision. If he goes astray and there is the possibility that he may have done better, the director will probably change the score. There is no suggestion that you were intentionally trying to fool declarer. If the director does award an adjusted score, you should accept it with good grace and be more careful in future. All players should know to be particularly careful to play in tempo when holding a singleton.

So, is there anything you can do to alleviate matters if you find yourself in such a situation? The answer is YES - Look at these two scenarios...

1) You don't have a significant choice of what card to play to this trick, but you are worried about how the hand might play out in a few tricks time and so would like to think about it now. Place the card you intend to play to this trick face down on the table and announce that you would just like to think about the hand. In this way, the opposition are not misled about your play to this trick – you just turn it over when you are ready.

2) You suddenly realise that you have delayed the play of a card and you haven't had any reason to do so. It may be that you were thinking about another trick. Or it could be that you thought you were about to discard and suddenly unexpectedly find a card of the suit led. Or you might be going to take a card from your hand and you fumbled about so that it appears that you are making a choice of which card to play. Or it could have been that you were looking out the window and not concentrating, and everyone thought you were mulling over what to play. By making a comment along the lines of "Sorry, I didn't have anything to think about", you can lessen your unintended swindle. In some cases, this will give the opponent a clue as to how to play the hand, but that is the consequence of your previous action.

Perhaps the most important message to be learnt is that if the opponents do call the director and he does award an adjusted score, there is no suggestion that anyone is cheating. An innocent player has been innocently deceived by the careless actions of another. The purpose of the laws is to try to put things right in such a situation.

ABF Teaching Fellows

The ABF Teachers' Accreditation Program (TAP) was launched in 2011 and continues to be very successful at bringing in new teachers and developing skills of both new and established teachers.

The ABF is now also looking to provide recognition and credentials to outstanding teachers who have a long and successful teaching history. These experienced teachers will be highly skilled, generally with a distinguished record in high level play, having won national titles and/or represented Australia internationally. They may also have strong coaching skills and will certainly possess the necessary interpersonal and communication skills to teach bridge at all levels.

We are offering one-off recognition to a small number of these very experienced professionals. This new program, acknowledging the contribution of "ABF Honorary Teaching Fellows" is separate from, but in addition to, the current ABF Accreditation program.

The ABF congratulates the following new Honorary Teaching Fellows:

Joan Butts
Jonathan Free
Jeff Fust

BAWA Easter Congress – Maylands Hotel 1983

From Nigel Dutton

The Easter Congress was originally a BAWA event with the 1983 congress organised by Hans Rosendorff at the Maylands Hotel. Panic set in on the Wednesday prior to the Friday start as Hans was informed by WA Police that the event could not go ahead as gambling was not permitted on licenced premises. Legal advice was sort and a UK High Court ruling was found establishing Bridge as a game of skill rather than chance. Police informed – all OK. Recently an old photograph of the congress came to me from an Op Shop who had discovered a photo album with this photo and contacted me via our web site. I suspect the photograph may have been taken by Lii Soots who was the director at the event. A number of people have helped with ID namely Avon Wilsmore, Peter Smith and Eugene Wichems. A link to the picture is below. Hopefully, the names are correct. The (??) indicates uncertainty.

* Precision: 11-15 HCP with 5+ clubs

The C3 is led to 6H. This is not the right contract, but you can always claim that "matchpoints made me do it".

Plan the play.

The lead indicates that East has six clubs to West's one.

There are seemingly 12 top tricks, but the problem is in the diamond suit: if it breaks 3-1, the suit is probably blocked, and you cannot get to dummy's fifth diamond. The only solution is to discard your fourth diamond on one of dummy's spades – but you must do this without letting East in to cash his clubs.

Win CA, and lead the seven of spades. To defeat you, East must put the eight on this, but more probably, he will play SA. Ruff high, lead H5 to H8, and play S10. If that is covered, ruff high again, play H9 to H10, and, assuming hearts divide 3-2, play S9. Finally, you will be able to discard a blocking diamond on this card, and when West wins, there is nothing he can do.

If you had led the S10 at trick 2, East can afford to play SA, but still cover the next two spades plays dooming your slam.

The moral: If someone asks you how to play a suit of 1097 opposite a void, don't laugh.

I actually misplayed the hand and only came to 8 tricks whereas Deep Finesse said that 9 tricks were available ... but I made my contract for +560 and a top board ... and a visit from the Director after his scoring program alerted him to a possible anomaly. 9 tricks are makeable by taking North side suits off them and then playing a

They then have 5 D tricks and 1 trick from Partner gives them 6 tricks and the contract would have been 1 off.

Capel Goodbye

By Di Brooks

Just a few weeks before my Darling and I pick up sticks and relocate to Rockingham. It's times like these when you see the amount of treasures you have gathered over the years. Rooms are almost stacked with boxes, mostly my stuff, as Husband's items are mainly in the shed.

I felt ashamed to admit that I had packed 23 packages of books and D.V.Ds, until a friend reported her total of kitchen items were packed in thirty boxes! Well, this just goes to show that this dear little wifey doesn't spend that much time in the kitchen. I do have stacks of bridge notes and booklets for lectures as well as prepared boards. Then again, I've not started on my beading or knitting essentials. (No wonder we are upsizing!)

Last weekend we attended the wedding of one of our granddaughters, the service being held in Claremont. The day was a tad warm but nothing deterred the bridal arrangements. Everything was perfect. The bride was stunning, the groom handsome, the bridal party could have graced the front cover of any magazine. (Who says I'm prejudiced!) I asked myself ... Where was the cheeky two year old that gave us such pleasure with her antics? And on that happy note, I'll close the last chapter of our country life style.

In such situations, it is often best to bid the opponents' suit to show values and indicate doubt as to the best contract. One option is 4D for North. If partner continues with 4H, North removes that to 4S, offering partner the choice between 4S and 5C. With the actual hand South will pass 4S, which makes comfortably.

A wide-angle photograph of a coastal scene. In the foreground, a sandy beach curves along the left side. The water is a vibrant turquoise color, with white foam from breaking waves visible. A large, dark, rocky outcrop is in the lower right corner. In the background, a steep, forested cliff rises from the water's edge, covered in dense evergreen trees. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds, and the overall atmosphere is serene and natural.

Kendenup Restricted One Day Congress

From Heather Fergie

Our fourth and most successful congress was held on the 5th of November in our new club rooms.

The shire and a local committee have been working together to refurbish what is basically a huge old historic shed. This large building was the past site of agricultural shows, sporting events, and large gatherings however it had fallen into disrepair and is now in the long process of being brought back to life! Our bridge club now has a large carpeted, air-conditioned space with new toilets and showers, as well as facilities for caravans to park in the lovely bush surroundings outside. Next we will work on a new kitchen and a wall to separate us from the cold air in the rest of the shed space.

Our congress was a great success with all keen to return next year and possibly bring more with them when they have spread the word about our great camping facilities and hospitality!

This year we were also fortunate enough to have the services of Neville Walker who directed the day with patience and skill. Thankyou Neville!

We are a very small club and a congress with 15 tables in a new venue takes quite a lot of work. Special thanks should go to Betty and Gillian who baked the most delicious pies ever!
